"AAPNA in Australia

It's hard to believe that it's only been six months since I joined AAPNA Infotech and officially launched its presence in Australia. The first thing I did was join several networking groups including BNI, Bx, Chamber of Commerce and Expressway and started attending the meetings regularly. This has helped me build relationships and get AAPNA known amongst the business community in Brisbane. We are starting to see the early fruits of this effort in terms of winning some small website development projects as well as getting enquiries about bigger software and app development projects. Exciting times ahead for AAPNA in Australia. "

COMMANDOS PEN- "Diwali in AAPNA"

Diwali in AAPNA, well I would say, this is that time of the year when festive mood at office blossomed. The decorations done by teams with sense of competitiveness to achieve excellence. Those dedicated weeks of events that ran in parallel to regular work time. So many events and competitions lasting a week or so and culminating by Pooja at office and the most anticipated GIFT boxes distribution. This year being different due to COVID-19, all those moments appears to be nostalgic already. It is the new normal. This year too, although we are working remotely but there has been constant engaging effort in the form of events such as (Guess the Riddle, Quiz, Speed Drawing, Tambola etc.) to have the feel of festive season. We received the gift boxes, but there was a message that really touched every AAPNITE.

Thanks, AAPNA for going "above and beyond" in keeping things close to normal in these not so normal, "new-normal-days".

"New Normal Diwali- From last one year a new term has entered in our life-New Normal- Work, home, and social life have all been altered which sanitizes our idea also. Diwali is one of the most awaited festivals in India and it is believed that it signifies the triumph of light over darkness. Every year, markets are filled with all the festive delights like diyas, candles, delicious sweets and crackers. However, this year, the COVID-19 pandemic has somewhat changed this usual scenario but not hampered our spirits of festivities. All decorations done, rituals maintained at home with family and with extra care but missed a lot (probably all AAPNAITES), those office decorations, games, tambola, delicious food except AAPNA Diwali gift 😊."

Myself Deepika Soni from Kolkata, I have joined AAPNA Infotech on 1st Dec 2020 as an ‘Associate Consultant’ in ‘QA team’. From interview process to beginning of training, it was really great experience. I have learned many things and enjoyed each step of interview and after joining I have attended various meetings and come to know various things About ‘Aapna infotech’ and ‘AAPNAites’ and met with my trainer. Though I have experienced teaching-learning process in my school life and college life also, but this is a new phase of my life to enter in and I am enjoying this learning process and would like to continue learning new things by doing hard work.

-Deepika Soni

My experience was wonderful in AAPNA Infotech. It has awesome working culture, amazing and helpful team.

I have been assigned a very helpful and good mentor. I have huge respect for him.

He has helped me a lot and he always make sure that I understand things properly and whenever I have any doubt regarding any topic including my training, he be there to help me starting from the scratch.

He keeps giving me little assignments to FastTrack my learning and get use to these paper works.

And as per project is concerned he made me understood how it works and why we are doing this, it is fun in learning and understanding.

Besides all HR team is very helpful too, and they do conduct weekly meetings so that we could easily understand and get use to this working culture, and so do IT team.

“AAPNA is not just an organization which cultivates the culture to only focus on work day/night. Work is always a top priority for any organization and AAPNA values it so much, but you know what makes AAPNA one step ahead – it cultivates the culture of healthy environment comprises of the activities which always bump the morale of all of us. AAPNA never steps back when it’s time to celebrate the festivals together in office. I have seen many times celebrating festivals in AAPNA with lots of fun and zeal, it really feels great when you see all these things.

Last year’s Diwali was celebrated with lots of fun in our Durgapur office. The office usually gets well decorated one day prior to the Diwali celebration day every year. When I entered the office in the morning, I was amazed by seeing a beautiful Rangoli drawn on the floor. The Rangoli was made by flowers, colors and the diya’s and it was looking so nice. All credit goes to Susmita for this extraordinary creativity ☺. The office was decorated with chains of LED lights and candles. Again, credit goes to Susmita and Taposh for arranging these things. We started our work as usual but keeping in mind to wrap up early so that we have enough time to celebrate in the evening ☺. In evening we started with couple of exciting games. The blow off candle game was really a fun, then we played Tambola which is always exciting. There was a competition for the best dress. Then we had a wonderful dinner together. Finally, we took lot of group photographs to keep this memorable day with us forever. Last but not the least we all got a wonderful Diwali gift from AAPNA which made the day complete ☺.”

Hi, this is Vandana Kumari. It has been almost 3 weeks, since I have joined AAPNA as an Associate Consultant.

The experience over the past 3 weeks, has been great till now. Though the first week of joining wasn't very smooth and productive. There were several things that I had explored and figured out. My manager Mr. Vineet Tyagi and my mentor Ms. Leena Singh are very supportive. They helped me in understand the process and proceed with my training. The HR team has also helped me a lot in understanding the work culture.

I am looking forward to having a great career here and successfully contribute in the growth and development of me and the company in the days to come.

-Vandana Kumari

Okay, so it has been 3 weeks working in this company and I can repeat myself saying "the work-life balance is good here". No doubt in saying that within these three weeks I have learnt a lot. My team members and each one here is so friendly and open to us. My mentor has the best teaching way I came across... The technique he made me follow is really helping me a lot.

And at last and obviously not the least the whole AAPNAites are worth calling a family.

Well, I'm a newbie here. Joined just at the month of December 2020. Can't complain much about the year, since I've never witnessed so much of loss and gain simultaneously. Covid 19 has turned into an evil boon. But late than never, I secured a job at an esteemed company and am planning to grow mutually. My peers here have great enthusiasm and the seniors are so warm at welcoming. I love the activities that goes on around, specially the Fundoo Fridays. And it would be punishable enough if I forget to mention our CEO, Mr. Abhijit Roy, who makes every virtual meet so interesting and amicable!

I'm looking forward to a great start in 2021!

HRD on Diwali in AAPNA

Diwali in AAPNA was all about having fun, gaiety and jollification. Decorating the office and distribute sweets and gifts to the team, conducting ethnic day, Diwali-themed activities, dazzling earthen lamps, vivid lights, finger-licking foods, mesmerizing rangolis, a feast and what not. A sense of build before it arrives.

Getting flashbacks of your last year Diwali party, already? Diwali celebrations in the office is something we surely missed this year. It is one of the most extravagant celebration in AAPNA and this year, for the very first time, team surely felt some void in these celebrations, thanks to Coronavirus.

Since we are still during the pandemic, the safety of our team is our utmost priority so, we couldn't celebrate Diwali as we used to but still managed to maintain the feel of festival by sending "Diwali Gifts" to the team with a little personalized thank you note from our CEO Mr. Abhijit Roy.

As an organization, we all are looking forward to normalizing the new normal.

Dear all, we sincerely thank you for your efforts that you put in taking our Commando Unit forward. We hope, in future, we shall continue this active participation binding an age long relationship.

We thank each of you, dear parents and dear kids, siblings and other family members at home, for your support. For allowing WFH, allowing to share your space, to bear with the extra effort and trouble it's causing to all of you. We understand and respect your share of contributions that you are giving to enable your son/ daughter/ father/ mother to continue to work the way they were doing from office. AAPNA ne Apnoko apnaya, aur Aapne AAPNA ko. Cheers to our Long lasting relationship. Happy Diwali!
